Philadelphia Academies, Inc. named Partners in Philanthropy honoree by Philadelphia Business Journal

Philadelphia, PA (April 11, 2024) - Philadelphia Business Journal announced that Philadelphia Academies, Inc. has been named an honoree in its annual Partners in Philanthropy awards program alongside their valued partner, the WSFS CARES Foundation. Each year the Philadelphia Business Journal recognizes impactful partnerships between two organizations that are benefiting Greater Philadelphia. For 2024, we are recognizing 25 such partnerships that are supporting an array of causes like food insecurity, education, literacy, workforce development and health care.

Nominees were submitted by the public and reviewed by the Business Journal's editorial board. The editorial board took into consideration the scope of the relationship and the impact of the work on the community such as the amount of money donated to a cause, the number of volunteer hours served, as well as the number of people who benefited from the partnership.

Philadelphia Academies, Inc. will be recognized at an in-person awards program on Apr. 11 and profiled in a special edition of the Business Journal on Apr. 12.

"We are tremendously grateful to the Philadelphia Business Journal for acknowledging our impactful partnership with the WSFS CARES Foundation," said F. Christopher Goins, President and CEO, Philadelphia Academies, Inc. "This recognition reinforces our shared commitment to easing the challenges confronting Philadelphia's youth so they may realize fulfilling and life-sustaining careers."

About Philadelphia Academies, Inc.

Philadelphia Academies, Inc. (PAI) was established in 1969 to address the dropout crisis plaguing Philadelphia schools. Today PAI continues to support student success and career/postsecondary readiness. Their work includes career initiatives for middle school students, workforce development for high school students, capacity building for teachers and school leaders, and industry organizing – all designed to improve outcomes for Philadelphia’s young people.
